

East Asian Library Open House

Wednesday, Sep 26th, 2007

3:00 P.M. to 5:00 P.M.

East Asian Library, S-75 Wilson Library Subbasement, West Bank

September 26 (Wednesday) is the Chinese Lunar date August 15, which is the Mid-Autumn Festival. The festival is a time for families and friends to get together to celebrate the abundance and fullness of life. By tradition, on this day, people enjoy moon cakes and teas while appreciating the brightest and fullest moon of the year.

We cordially invite you to join your colleagues in the East Asian Library to celebrate the Mid-Autumn Festival on September 26. There will be many flavors of moon cakes and several kinds of fresh teas from China and Japan to enjoy. During the open house, we also will unveil a rubbing, which is a valuable historical piece recording the early history of Christianity spreading in China.

Join us to taste moon cakes and fresh teas and enjoy time with your colleagues!
